1. Opening

- The meeting was called to order at 09:00 USA ET.
- The antitrust rules, and DICOM Patent Disclosure Policy were reviewed
- The agenda was approved.
- The minutes from the June 26th t-con were approved.

2. IHE-RO HDR Profile

- Today's call was the continuation of discussing of IHE-RO Brachytherapy Workflow profile.
- The IHE-RO Brachytherapy workflow profile was split before the t-con into two documents:
 - o IHE-RO TPPC Brachy
 - o IHE-RO TDRC Brachy
- The IHE-RO TDRC Brachy, version 2.1 was discussed during today's meeting.

Line 210 in the document: Table X.1-1: TPPC-Brachy Profile - Actors and Transactions

Note: The TMS Integration Statement will indicate which transactions it is capable of supporting. In general, these will be grouped according to the overall functionality of the TMS actor. For example, a general TMS would likely support all transactions, while a Brachy only TMS may only support the brachy plans. In addition, for cases where there are insufficient actors for complete testing of the TMS, the TMS can pass the Connectathon by claiming those transactions it successfully completed.

The above note "The TMS Integrated Statements" raised some questions. Why was it added? Is it needed? Members of WG-07 Brachy are seeking feedback from members of other working groups.

Action Items:

1. Please submit comments on the TMS Integrated Statements and any other comments you might have.
2. Please enter any comments inside the document and add your initials to the saved file name.
3. Post the document with your comments and initials on the ftp server.
4. Link to access IHE-RO Profile documents:
