Log Summary: Coding scheme for UK NHS National Interim Clinical Imaging Procedures (NICIP)
Name of Standard PS 3.16 2011
Rationale for Correction: The UK NHS maintains a coding scheme for clinical imaging procedures that consists of pre-coordinated codes for procedure (and pre-coordinates body part, laterality and various other aspects of the procedure). A value to use for Coding Scheme Designator is required for these. The symbolic name "NICIP" is not currently assigned for any other purpose. Note that though recent versions of NICIP include a mapping to SNOMED CT, the mapping is not fully pre-coordinated, and separates out laterality, precluding the use of the SNOMED code in DICOM concepts that permit only a single code. Further, the NICIP "short code" is typically used in systems, and the mapping to SNOMED may not always be available.
